“ I knew Don to be a kind and gracious man, generous of spirit, cared deeply about others and whatever he could do for them. I've known Don and Kay for about 7 years, and have enjoyed many meals together and many long conversations. Don loved his wife deeply and treated her always like a queen. His wife, his family, his country and God meant everything to him. He would also be quick to volunteer his time or talents whenever there was a need at his residence, whether Brookdale or Villa Grande. His musical talent was so appreciated by the residents of both facilities as he would joyfully serenade everyone with his organ music. Don was a very good man, a gentle spirit, my dear friend, and I shall miss him greatly. Rest In Peace Don. God Bless you. ... Margie Wareing

Margie Wareing he was a horrible man, he was NO FATHER, . He cheated on our Real Mother, I remember cleaning up his vomit on his drunken binges. My Mother crying every holiday because he was out getting drunk and screwing around on our her. He hated his kids because his wife Katherine never had kids and she hated all four of us. He was a hypocrite, an Atheist, and he was all show .. you fell for a fake ! He was not a religious man .. Fake until his Death He wasn't A Baha'i he was a hypocrite and you all fell for his ruse.
