“ Uncle George, I cherish our many discussions in the pre-dawn hours prior to club tournaments. It was our nature to arrive at the ramp early, at least an hour before safe light, giving us the opportunity to reflect on past tournaments, bass caught, and the inevitable march of time. When discussing the current tournament it was not unusual to give away one or two "honey holes", but never the "hot" one. Over the years you earned my respect and admiration as an honest and ethical sportsman. I guess I always thought I'd see you out on a lake sometime, but you are now in the embrace of our Lord. Till we meet again. Crawdad

“ George, I will always remember the good times fishing countless tournaments with our club. In all those years I never once beat you to the launch ramp. Go with God George, you beat me to heaven as well.
