“Kate, and family: I remember when Jeff had his first airplane ride with me and Michelle. We had to run from one end of the airport to the other to catch our connection and we all had to use the bathroom. We got to our connecting flight just before they closed the the doors. Once in our seats, which was another problem since they over booked the flight, we laughed and enjoyed the ride to Kansas City. We Flew there to ride home with his brother Tom. We had a terrific time. Even though we are miles apart, I still felt a connection with Jeff. I will miss him greatly. I am saying prayers for the whole family for peace at your time of sorrow. I can only say God must have needed Jeff more than we did.

Words never seem to be enough to express sincere condolences for such loss. However, sometimes, that is all that we have. Please know that you and your family are in my thoughts and prayers.

Kate, Dylan, Leah, Ashley, & Eric,

There are no words to say, only a wash of emotions. I am reflecting on the millions of memories that we have shared. Jeff fought a long fight, you suffered right along. The only thing that I pray is that Peace is at hand. The pain, frustration and fear are gone. You all are in my prayers & thoughts, as always,

Kate,

I wish you were there when we first spoke to Jeff, but you were sent back to get a shotgun... Ah, first impressions. That first meeting always makes us smile every time we pass your gate. You and yours are wonderful people. Thank you for letting us in and to get to know you.
