“ Adrienne, I wish I could have been with you as you celebrated the life of your mother. I have so many memories of visits to your house when I would get to enjoy your mom's fabulous cooking. She was always welcoming and kind to me, and your house felt like a second home. Your mother was talented in so many ways - I can remember her at her sewing machine whipping up neckties one day and sending some home with me. I am so happy that I got to see her one last time when I was visiting in Florida. Just as she always had all those years ago, she welcomed me with open arms! I know how much you will miss her, but what a blessing to know she is with the Lord and that we will see her again in Heaven!

“ Passing is a spiritual event. Those who survive are left with questions and uncertainty. There is nothing more comforting than knowing that the persons spirit lives on and is in a better place. The following are supposed to let the grieving know that their loved one is with God. These also tell the surviving person that God will always be there..

“ Mom and Dad are together now. This thought alone gives me comfort and peace. She is happy, young and beautiful now. When I think of them together I remember their love of living on the river going out in the boat and trapping crabs and shrimp. Creating feasts at home for family and friends. They now are living again, sharing great times on the River of Life that flows down the middle of the great street of the city of heaven.

I can't even imagine the joy your mom experienced seeing the Jesus she loved so much face to face! And then to be reunited with your dad, her dad, her mom, and especially Ruth, Esther, and Luna! I can just hear the laughter and joy and worship! And I'd like to think she's seen little Augie again too, because I can't imagine heaven being without our beloved pets, either! I miss her so much and loved her so much -- and am grateful to know that we'll all be together again in Jesus one day. What a blessed hope!
